

Waiho River gold fossicking area

Part of the Waiho River (see the map below) has been set aside for recreational gold mining without the need for a mining permit. The area is suitable for gold panning and sluice boxing, and mining is restricted to hand-held non-motorised methods only. Alluvial gold is present although the concentrations are low.

More information is available from the Queenstown Lakes District Council or from Crown Minerals, Ministry of Economic Development (www.crownminerals.govt.nz).
